Chamber To Hear Names Selected For 'City' Council

Plans Of Recreational Area Will Be Shown At Meeting

Names of nearly a score of potential candidates for the office of city councilmen, in the event the district is incorporated, will be presented to a meeting of the Truckee Chamber of Commerce at Smart's Friday at noon, President N. F. Dolley announced.

The same ballot which will determine whether or not the area shall be incorporated, must have the names of council candidates, five of whom would be elected if the proposition carries.

A chamber committee comprising Lee Apple, Charles Osburn, Mrs. Ametta Firpo selected the names.

Also at the meeting, Mrs. Karl Kielhofer will present maps and pictures of the proposed new recreational center designed to include a golf course, baseball field, tennis courts and other facilities on Truckee Public Utility District property south of Truckee.

Members and potential members of the chamber are invited to attend the meeting. Because President Dolley will be absent from town, Vice President Zeph Rose will preside.

Wolverines Win In Hot Weather Game

by JOHN FIRPO

The Tahoe-Truckee Wolverines had to overcome two opponents last Friday, first a stubborn Norte Del Rio team and then a 99 degree temperature to win their second game in as many starts, 19-12.

The Wolverines, playing on the Don's field. lost the efforts of big Rex Donaldson and Bob Ziegler in the second half of the play due to the heat.

In the opening seconds of the game TnT couldn't quite get started after three plays and were forced to punt. Craig Robinson booted the ball to Alex Vilamontes, Rio halfback, on the latter's own 20 where he immediately cut down the right side line for 80 yards and

Snyder Make Quick Work Of Deer Hunt

It was a short hunting season for the family of Sgt. Frank Snyder of the California Highway Patrol and there is little doubt of who brought down the first legal deer of the present season.

At 6:45 a.m. Saturday morning, Sergeant Snyder and his two hunting companions, Clyde Russell, a Sacramento gunsmith and Jess Cave, a Williams rancher, checked through the quarantine station with their three bucks—a pointer and two-forked horns. All three were killed in the vicinity of the Truckee airport.

Not to be outdone by the men, Mrs. Snyder Saturday evening went to Murphy Meadow and returned with a forked horn.

SALES TAX FAILS TO REDUCE HIGH COSTS

AUBURN — The higest overall tax rate in Placer County will be paid by the residents of the Kings Beach North Tahoe fire, PUD and hospital districts where the tax for the coming year will be $9.13. The Tahoe City, fire, PUD and hospital districts will have a rate of $7.39.

These figures were announced by County Auditor William R. Stephens who computed the rates for the various city, county, and special districts.

Auburn will pay an all-time high tax rate during the coming year with a county and city total of $6.80.

Placer County taxes have soared to a new all-time high despite the fact that a county sales tax was inauguraged a year ago with the expectation that property taxes would show a corresponding decrease.

SAN JOSE MAN GETS TWO DRUNK TICKETS

Lute Louis Winterbauer, 60, San Jose, was a hard man to convince that drunk driving draws severe penalties.

Winterbauer was released from jail under bail Sunday on a drunk driving charge and appeared before Judge F. W. Wilson Monday morning. The judge delayed hearing when he found the defendant had been drinking. Later Monday, the San Jose man was again lodged in jail on a drunk driving charge.

When he appeared before the court Tuesday morning, this time quite sober, he was fined $578, given a five-day jail sentence and his driver's license suspended for one year.

Morey Named To Executive Job By Utility District Here

Daven Morey, well known Truckee resident, this week assumed his new position as office manager for the Truckee Public Utility District.

Under a new setup, the district will operate with an office manager and superintendent, with a board of directors assuming an active lead in the over-all administration, instead of with a general manager, a position held by Cecil Edmunds, for 30 years, until his recent retirement.

Kenneth Doerr will continue to serve as superintendent, in charge of the outside work, and Morey will be the office manager to handle the fiscal details of the district. Both will be directly accountable to the board.

Morey is no stranger in Truckee, having worked here for the department of agriculture in the quarantine station in 1937 and 1938. During the war he spent time in the army and later engaged in business in Sacramento for two years, before rejoining the state.

In 1950, he returned to Truckee with his family and until a few months ago was employed at the quarantine station. His wife, Mrs. Ruth Morey, is the head nurse at the Tahoe Forest Hospital and they reside at Gateway Park in their new home with their two children, Daven and Ann.

The new manager has been associated with many local civic endeavors and is a member of the Lions Club and other organizations.

In commenting on the appointment, Hal Welch, president of the governing board of the district said:

"We feel fortunate in having a man of Morey's ability to take over the office duties of the district. We are confident that he will provide the answer to a problem which we have faced."

Edmunds, currently on a vacation with Mrs. Edmunds, will be retained in an advisory capacity by the board.

UTILITY OFFICE TO BE OPEN AT NOON

Office Manager Daven Morev of the Truckee Public Utility District announced this week that beginning October 1, the business office will remain open during the noon hour each working day for the convenience of the customers.

At the same time, Morev called attention to the ruling which stipulates that no discounts will be allowed on electric bills after the 10th of the month following the month of service. Often, he said, checks are mailed in with the discount taken after the 10th but in the future the amount deducted in such cases will be added to the following month's bill, by orders of the directors.

CSF BAKE SALE TO BE HELD OCTOBER 4

The California Scholarship Federation of the Tahoe-Truckee High School, an honor society, will hold a bake sale between 9 and 12 o'clock, October 4 in the Eugene Welch Hardware store in Truckee.

BUTTERFLY RELICS PROVIDE MOTH FOOD

The famous butterfly collection of the late C. F. McGlashan, moved from Truckee to Nevada City several years ago for "safe keeping," is providing food for moths and slowly but surely deteriorating, acording to word received by the board of supervisors.

Attention to the sad state of the collection was called by County Clerk John Trauner, who had been advised by Mrs. Lorraine Andrews of Grass Valley. The same information was contained in a letter to the board from Harold Berliner, district attorney, who said a University of California entymologist would come to Nevada City and spray the collection without cost if that was desired.

The supervisors were not moved to action by either request.

In Tiburon—

Mrs. Connie Euer returned from a visit to Tiburon with her brother in law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Welman Topham, and continued on down the peninsula for the balance of her trip.

Lake Tahoe Water Problems Object Of Capital Meet

Committee Named To Aid In Survey Of Lake Problems

TAHOE CITY—Meeting in Sacramento Thursday, the California Nevada Interstate Compact Commission selected five prominent Lake Tahoe property owners as an advisory committee to assist in the study of water problems faced by the Tahoe area.

This committee included Raymond Knisley of Richardson Bay; George Kehlet of Meeks Bay; Don Huff of Homewood; Admiral John Crenshaw (ret.) of Crystal Bay and Kenneth Amundson of Glenbrook.

The committee adopted a resolution asking the state engineers of the two states and the California Water Resources Board to study the population and ultimate water requirements of the Tahoe basin and report back to the committee.

George Devore, a member of the Nevada commission, objected strongly to Tahoe committee bypassing the commission and said it was improper for them to go outside the authorized agencies for information. Following a lengthy discussion the commission voted the committee did have such power.

The meeting adopted a resolution recommending that the federal bureau of reclamation be permitted to operate a reservoir on Prosser Creek subject to certain limitations. The resolution calls for operation of the reservoir to aid fish live in the Truckee River and says

Local Firm Reports Water Correction

Game Warden Erwin Single this week announced that the Clements Rock Products has taken adequate measures to halt damage in local streams caused by silt deposits resulting from washing gravel at the company's plant near Donner Lake.

At the same time the company president, R. D. Coats issued the following statement:

Regarding the discoloration which has been present recently in tributaries of the Truckee River, Clements Rock Products, Inc. has taken the necessary steps to correct this situation as far as their plant is concerned. These measures took effect Saturday, September 13.

Since that time, new stories have been circulated regarding court action against Clements Rock Products, Inc. for alleged violation of the fish and game code. This information is incorrect as the situation at the Clements plant has been remedied as of the aforementioned date.

A statement to this effect would be appreciated.

SUNBEAMS

By WALTER M. BARRETT

Nevada County has received its first full quarter of receipts from the recently enacted sales tax ordinance which amounts to $31,007.60. The figures do not reveal what portion of this tax was collected and paid into the coffers by the eastern end of the county, nor do they show what portion wil be received by this area. These figures would be most interesting, particularly to those who "bitterly opposed" the tax ordinance. Under incorporation, Truckee would naturally receive its just share, but as the matter stands, we benefit only as other unincorporated areas benefit, regardless of the amount we contribute.

Reports that gates over Highway 40 detour at the S. P. crossings east of here are closing before the warning bells or wig-wigs operate are worthy of investigation. A number of motorists have reported they were caught between the gates and in at least one instance a collision resulted. Drivers should approach these crossings with utmost caution and not depend too much on mechanical devises, but use the old standby rule of "Stop, Look and Listen" before crossing the tracks.

TIME TO CHANGE TIME TO KEEP IN NEW TIME

If you want to keep in time with the changing times, Sunday is the time to set your timepieces ahead one hour.

That is the date, fixed by a California law, when we again say farewell to daylight saving time and once again take up where we left off six months ago with standard time.

What we gain or lose by this confusing semi-annual manipulation of the clock is still a blank, but at 1 a.m. Sunday morning it will be 2 a.m., believe it or not.

CHRISTMAS TREES IN ARE UP FOR AUCTION

The Truckee district of the Tahoe National Forest is selling approximately 20.000 Christmas trees this season. The trees wil be cut in the Blackwood Canyon.

Prospective Christmas tree buyers can attend a forest service conducted show-me trip to the area September 26, by coming to the Truckee Ranger Station at 8 a.m. Roy Saarni, district ranger, said.

Further details can be read in the legal notices of this issue.

GILL ENTERS PLEA IN KIDNAPPING CHARGE

NEVADA CITY—William G. Gill, 32-year-old Truckee area logger, pleaded not guilty to three counts of kidnaping and three counts of assault with a deadly weapon when he was arraigned in superior court before Judge Vernon Stoll.

Gill, who was free on $5000 bail, must stand trial on the charges November 10.

The Truckee man is accused of accosting three men and forcibly taking them to another point during a dispute near Frog Lake, August 9.

The three complainants are Fred Parr Cox, Laurance Hall Smith and Walter Taylor.

The argument reportedly had its origin in a grand theft charge involving one of Gill's in-laws last year.

COASTAL GROUP IS OPPOSING BRIDGE

SAN FRANCISCO—Directors of the Save-the-Redwoods League urged that no bridge be constructed across scenic Emerald Bay on Lake Tahoe when the highway is improved.

The league, which has headquarters in San Francisco, called upon the "ingenuity" of highway engineers to design a bigger highway along the present "high-line" route overlooking the bay, "whatever the cost."

29th Forest Fire In Area Reported

The Truckee district had its 29th reportable forest fire of the current season Monday when a carelessly tossed cigarette started a blaze on the Alder Creek road a quarter of a mile off Route 89. Fortunately patrolmen were in the immediate area and with the aid of water trucks from Frederickson & Watson soon controlled the blaze.

The 28th fire was started by a welding crew near Hirschdale Monday morning and was also quickly extinguished by the suppression crew and construction workers in the area.

There were 11 forest service patrolmen in the Truckee area during the weekend and one citation was issued. This was to Andy Stritzel of Sacramento who is charged with leaving a campfire unattended.

Of the 29 fires reported, 17 were caused bv lightning and 12 mancaused, Henry Toccalini of the forest service reported.

The .02 of an inch of rain which fell during the storm Monday night did little to lessen the fire dangers.

215 Deer Tagged On Opening Days In Truckee Area

10 Are Cited As Success Marks Opening Of Season Here

The 1958 deer hunting season opened Saturday with fewer hunters and more deer killed than during recent years, Erwin Single, Truckee game warden reported.

A total of 215 deer were validated in the Truckee ranger district which includes eastern Placer and Nevada counties, a marked increase over the opening two days of the 1957 season, Single said.

There were six wardens working in the district under the direction of Captain Ken Hooker and 10 citations were issued. Robert E. Post of Woodland offered one of the most interesting cases when he was cited for taking a spike buck.

Post, hunting south of Truckee was stopped and a nice legal buck was found in the rear of his car. A closer look, however, revealed a second carcass—that of the spike—which had been butchered and placed beneath of the legal kill.

Other arrests included Bennie R. Poindexter of Del Paso Heights; Harold Ottersetter, Oakland; Edward R. Rosaia, San Francisco and Manuel D. Silva, Sacramento, all charged with having loaded guns in their car.

Richard W. Meyer of Sunnyvale was charged with hunting without tags and Morris R. Smith. Truckee and Ray Rogers of Marysville were cited for failure to tag their deer.

Post, Kenneth W. Boyer of North Highlands and Milton Emery of San Jose were all charged with taking spike bucks.

First Snow Falls In Donner District

Coming events, they say, cast their shadows ahead, and the shadows which fell over Donner Summit Tuesday morning heralded an inevitable event in this region—the approach of winter.

A slight slushy snow fall was recorded on the summit at 8 a.m. Tuesday, accompanying the dark clouds and light rains which were welcomed in the dry forests.

Of course, the snow did not pile up on the warm ground to any extent and many more weeks of ideal fall weather may be expected but we can record the fact that the first snow fall of the 1958 season came on September 23.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO—(CNS)— Apparently, the state division of beaches and parks is up to some of its old tricks again. Some years ago, the complaint was that the division specialized in building fancy houses for its own personnel at state park sites, while the public was shunted to one side for want of camping places.

Now comes Supervisor Eugene Chappie, of El Dorado county, with a new but similar complaint. He says the division is performing the only real work around the Gold Discovery Site at Coloma in mowing the lawns in the proximity of residences occupied by the park personnel.

"The park at Coloma", says Chappie, "is now an absolute disgrace to the site that touched off one of the greatest mass migrations of human beings in history.

"The place looks like an infernal briar patch. I can sympathize with the people of Coloma, who are distressed at the pitiful condition of the park site."

Further, Chappie pointed out that in some instances, residents of Coloma have been told their homes and orchards would be bought by the state.

"Then they have been subjected to interminable delays, indecision and procrastination on the part of the division of beaches and parks."

Plans for the development of the Gold Discovery Site call for the erection of a museum, which would house some of the early relics of the gold discovery days and of early California. The site is located on Highway 49, which threads through the Mother Lode country over the areas which poured millions of dollars worth of gold dust into the national economy subsequent to discovery at Marshall's mill in 1849.

The museum would be one of three contemplated under a bill by Senator Harold T. Johnson, (D-Roseville). The other two are planned at Donner Lake, where the ill-fated Donner party wintered in heavy snows, and in Death Valley, where the division of beaches and parks plans a cooperative project with the federal government at Death Valley National Monument.

But meanwhile, exasperated residents of El Dorado county, many of whom look upon the tourist trade as a major portion of their revenue, get no help from the state in making the Gold Discovery Site attractive to these money-spending tourists.

However, the residents of El Dorado county may find some solace in contemplating a change of administration in the division of beaches and parks after the first of the year.

No matter who is elected governor, Newton B. Drury, chief of the division, will retire by April 15, if he lasts that long. Drury will have reached the age of 70 years, at which time retirement is mandatory from state service. However, his sojourn in the division may end sooner if the state's new governor moves immediately into the beaches and parks situation and starts the wheels moving again.

Drury also has been one of the strongest advocates in opposition to a low level road at Lake Tahoe, and the construction of a bridge across the mouth of Emerald Bay, which would be necessary if such a road were constructed. This too, is in El Dorado county, and most of the resort owners around the lake are anxious to see the highway developed, to assure an all-year service. Now the road usually closes in winter because of rock slides.

The world's first atomic-powered ship, the 3,000 ton submarine Nautilus, was commissioned Sept. 30, 1954 at Groton, Conn., and assigned to the Atlantic Fleet. The Nautilus made the U.S. Navy the first military service to utilize nuclear energy for propulsion power.

Rotary Conference

I just heard about the fine job that was done by Wiley Jones for the Brockway Rotary Club, obtaining the district conference for them. Big clubs of Reno and Elko were also bidding, and Wiley really put on an excellent campaign. This conference will be attended by about 400 or 500 Rotarians, and their Rotary Anns. The time will be excellent for the North End of Lake Tahoe because of the May dates, and we shall be able to spread our hospitality to cover many interesting trips for the ladies, provide exceptional facilities for the meetings of such a large group.

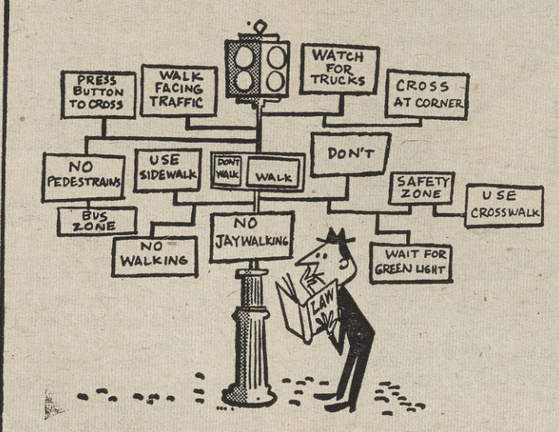
FLORISTON HIGHWAY ACCEPTED BY STATE

The division of highways has accepted as completed a 5.4-mile section of freeway on Highway U.S. 40 from near Floriston to the Nevada state line. Work on the project was done by the construction firm of Gibbons and Reed of Salt Lake City, Utah, at an approximate cost of $5,-100,000.

The section was placed in service in July but many minor construction details had to be completed before the division could make final acceptance. Work started on the project late in March, 1957.

Highway officials stated that the completion of this contract brings this year's total of completed miles of freeway on Highway 40, between Sacramento and the Nevada state line, to 15.1 miles. An aditional 5.8 miles will be placed in service shortly between Colfax and Magra.

SAFE WALKING TIPS



LEARN PEDESTRIAN LAWS

The pedestrian who remains ignorant of traffic laws and ordinances is short-changing himself. Such regulations are intended to protect him from danger in traffic.

The American Automobile Association urges you to familiarize yourself with the pedestrian laws of your community, particularly if you are a new resident. Ask your police department for a copy of these regulations. It is just as important to know the proper rules for walking as it is to understand the driving laws. To ignore either is a serious risk.

PROPONENTS TELL OF BENEFITS OF PROP. 4

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) —Proponents of Proposition 4 on the November ballot, which would authorize $60 millions in bonds for the San Francisco harbor and small craft harbor development, have listed 134 projects in 37 counties to be affected by the proposition.

The San Francisco public relations firm of Whitaker & Baxter issued a statement from the state committee on harbor development and small boat facilities, listing projects proposed for small harbor development. Such development would receive $10 million of the bonds proposed in porposition 4.

The small craft harbors commission, which serves as an advisory arm to the division of small craft harbors, has been in existence for nearly a year. Meetings have been held from one end of the state to the other, with numerous projects placed under consideration.

The 1958 legislature provided a $5 million loan to the division for loans to local jurisdictions for small craft harbor development.

HOW TO DRIVE

A tip from the AAA's driving guide for adults.

REPORT ALL ACCIDENTS

The chances of a really good driver being involved in an accident are much, much less than those of a slipshod or careless driver. But sometimes even the best motorists are the innocent victims in accidents, so every person who operates an automobile should know what to do in case of collision.

The law requires that you stop immediately, render assistance, obtain medical aid if needed, and give necessary facts about yourself and your car. However, if the accident is at all serious your responsibilities do not end there. You should get names and addresses of all witnesses, contact your insurance representative immediately, and learn from the local police when and where to file an official accident report. When the latter is required by law, it must be done personally. You cannot "let the other fellow do it," or expect that it will be sufficient if a traffic officer files his report.

In some states the law allows up to 15 days to file an accident report, but it's best to report as soon as possible while the facts are still fresh in your mind.

The Student Council of Tahoe-Truckee High met last Thursday, September 18. Among other items on the agenda, the council had to elect a student body secretary, to take the place of the late Miss Carol Ann Quilici, who is deeply mourned by all her friends here. Susan Heitz, a senior, was elected to serve for the coming school year. Susan is well-qualified and is sure to do a wonderful job, even though this is her first year at TNT. The Student Body officers for this term are: President, Bob Williams; vice president, Woody Ribal; secretary, Susan Heitz; treasurer, Luisa Sciutto; treasurer-elect, Judy Fanger.

APPOINTMENTS MADE AT SCOUTING MEET

At the Truckee Neighborhood Girl Scout meeting held on Tuesday, September 16, it was announced that Mrs. Dave Rose, Neighborhood chairman, had appointed Mrs. Kenneth Hedlund as Neighborhood troop organizer and Mrs. Bill Randall as Neighborhood troop consultant completing the Truckee Neighborhood service team.

The organizational set-up of the Truckee Girl Scouts was discussed. Mrs. Helene Rauser, Sierra Nevada Girl Scout Council Neighborhood co-ordinator, recommended that intermediate Girl Scout troops No. 131 and No. 132 be re-organized into a new large troop which can function more in line with the national Girl Scout policy. In a large troop composed of 20-30 intermediate Girl Scouts the patrol system affords an opportunity for a more varied scope of activity including patrol camping, and merit badge work which lead to participation in council, region and national Girl Scout activities.

Announcement was made of the next council meeting to be held in Carson City on Tuesday, October 21. The Big Tree Regional Conference will be held in Sacramento this year on November 19 and 20. Further information and reservations can be obtained from Mrs. Dave Rose, Truckee Neighborhood chairman.

ASSAULT CHARGE IS REDUCED IN COURT

Wesley Edwards, 32, Shingle Springs, arrested recently on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon, appeared before Judge F. W. Wilson Tuesday and heard his charge reduced to handling a gun in a threatening manner. He was sentenced to a year in jail, suspended and a $50 fine.

Edwards was accused of threatening Bill West, a Kingvale service station operator with a rifle during a row at the station last month.

EDUCATORS MEET AT TAHOE FOR TALKS

BROCKWAY—Approximately 300 educators from 21 northern California counties attended the ninth annual leaders' conference of the northern section of the California Teachers Association here last weekend.

Nicholas T. Goncharff, associate secretary of the international committee, Young Men's Christian Association addressed the group at a dinner meeting at Brockway Hotel. The conference concluded Sunday.

LOCAL MEN TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL FOR TERMS

NEVADA CITY—Two men were brought down to the county jail from Truckee by deputies Sunday to begin serving sentences meted out by Judge Fosten Wilson in the Truckee judicial court.

William Leonard Bowles, 39, of Riverside Hotel, Truckee, was given 30 days for being drunk in a public place, and Thomas Ramerz, 37, of Truckee, was sentenced to 10 days on a similar charge.

Louis Rameriz, 22, also of Truckee, was brought in for violation of probation, deputies said.

Tahoe Items

Many families are reluctantly leaving the lake to take up their living in the valleys until next spring and this week include the Clark Burnhams of Piedmont, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Yeager, going to Ukiah, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Gaynor to Sun Valley, having spent the season at Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Celia left Tahoma to return to Berkeley and Mr. and Mrs. George Ernst and the Charles Martins have gone to Oakland and Los Angeles after several weeks at Kings Beach.

To California

...a glass of beer is many things
Yosemite's giant Redwood trees stand as a symbol of California just as a glass of beer stands for light, bright refreshment.
But to the nearly 8,000 Californians engaged directly in the Brewing Industry, a glass of beer means more than cool refreshment. It means their livelihood. Each year, by earning and spending in our state, these men and women help to make California more prosperous.

CAUTION RADIATION AREA
One of the most important jobs we have at Southern Pacific is keeping our fleet of 2,000 diesel locomotives operating at peak efficiency. Recently we equipped two locomotives for standing tests with "hot" or radioactive piston rings. Geiger tubes count the particles of metal worn off the rings. As a result, we're now getting information in 6 to 8 hours that ordinary tests could give us only after 1 to 2 years. These tests, conducted jointly with Standard Oil Company of California, tell us the effects of different fuels, lubricants and improved engine parts on engine operation and wear.
Here is another example of how S. P. makes use of the latest developments in science to provide better, more dependable transportation—a complete, modern service that we'd like to have you try.
The 8-state Golden Empire served by Southern Pacific is one of the fastest-growing and most productive areas in the U. S. It is our job to match this vitality with dynamic, resourceful transportation service.

PROBE CONTINUES IN FATAL AIR MISHAP

Officials are continuing to probe the fatal airplane crash near the state line last Wednesday which cost the life of Gerald Elmer Cirby, 27, of Daly City.

Although Sgt. Frank Snyder of the California Highway Patrol, one of the first on the scene, contends that there was every evidence the plane ran out of gasoline on its westward flight from Reno, CAA investigators said the plane may have had fuel, but was caught in a down draft.

The latter theory was advanced by Floyd Phipps, 22, South San Francisco, a patient in the Tahoe Forest Hospital, who said Jerome Mark Maher, 31, owner and pilot, was attempting to make a turn in the turbulant air when a wing tip struck the hillside 50 feet from Highway 40, causing the plane to overturn onto the highway.

They were not attempting a landing on the freeway, he said.

Inspector Dan E. Moran of the CAA said the auxiliary tank had been ruptured and this could not have happened had the tank been empty.

Cirby was at first believed to have been piloting the plane, but Phipps said Maher was at the control.

STRICTLY STRICKLAND

By Bill Strickland

I want you to know that last week's column was delivered but after my lapse of several weeks, I imagine the editor expected the usual 500, so when we was confronted with a 2000 word column he, of necessity and lack of space, had to advance to the rear.

After reading the Sierra Sun's report, a couple of visitors wanted to know if they should hit me on the head would it break my other leg? Could be.

I also found that some of my friends loked for me in the local bastile. That from my own writing that I'd have nothing but time ofr the next few months. You know: "90 days," said the judge, "since you doeverything so fast, see how fast you can do that."

The following is last week's report. I hope you enjoy it as much as I did writing it. And once again I'm very grateful to the entire staff of the Tahoe Forest Hospital.

Ever since the Tahoe Forest Hospital opened its doors, I've noticed little ads in the Sierra Sun, placed there by released patients, expressing their thanks to those who helped to speed their recovery. I'd like to go a little further and elaborate on each individual on the staff of the small by extremely efficient hospital. I will not start by saying so and so, being the president, is the most important and therefore should be written of first. Every member of this staff is a journeyman in his or her particular work, and just as important as the next one. In an attempt to be impartial I'd like to write about them in the order in which I met them.

The first young lady to come my way at the emergency entrance had just naturally to be Elsie Olsen. Only this time I wasn't bringing in her son, Ronnie Rau. "Wha' hoppen, Bill?" she says. I still wasn't sure myself and for once didn't have too much to say. Elsie took off up the hall and came back with Babette Hauesen in tow. Babett slapped her sides and said: "They finally caught up with you, eh?" I still haven't found out who 'they' are. But whoever caught up with me I certainly was. Next along came Pat Vanni, surgical nurse extraordinaire. I didn't know what she was up to until she asked me if my broken leg hurt much. I said no and she answered "Well in case it should start to hurt, this little old shot will nip that in the bud, right now." And with that she pulled out a hypo needle that looked about two feet long and hit my upper left arm with it. I looked over at my right arm to see if it would come out there, but since it didn't guess it wasn't two feet long. Maybe just a foot and a half.

Next was Chet Burns. He says, "Come on Strictly, let's have some pictures." I've never known a skier who could say no to a picture, action or still, so, ham that I am, I naturally said o.k. Those pictures weren't very good, though. Looked like a couple of slalom poles, broken in the middle. Everyone else thought they were pretty good so I kept my opinion to myself.

Right after that the men in green arrived. Of course that would be the Doctors Nelson and Turner. The latter asked: "What'd ya do; break your leg?" Course stupid me couldn't answer because I didn't know and besides he was the doctor and he was supposed to have the answers. After they had finished applying that plaster lead-weighted cast, Doctor Nelson asked "What room?" "All the rooms are full," replied Staff Nurse Gertrude Gilson, "just pull him up against the wall. So there I was looking at a blank wall. Reminded me of the times I had to stand in a corner for behaving when I was a kid.

Not much later though, they discovered that bed No. 1 in Room No. 1 was vacant. So there I was trundled, pillows were stacked up and I was installed.

Vera Rivera, the lab technician, was shamming a conversation with the occupant of Bed No. 2. I guess she figured I'd be keeping a weather eye out on the door in case Pat Vanni might come in to offer any additional sedation. I was doing just that, too, because by that time was getting suspicious of all of them. Well, let me tell you, Vera had figured right on the button. While my back was turned, she'd applied her tournequet to my arm and by the time I'd lifted that cast and turned over, she had enough blood out of my arm to start a blood-bank.

Then I must have gone to sleep, but not for long, cause Louisa Antillon was shaking me and saying that it was time to wash up. She handed me one of those Dior model sack dress type night gowns. You know, the kind that tie down the back. Boy, it's a good thing they have a large staff, cause getting into and out of those rigs require more contortions that your wife's figure fakers. I battled it for five hours then requested permission to send it back to the designer.

Things were pretty quiet then for about ten minutes, then another shift came on. One of the first to check for new arrivals was Vida Euer. She popped her head in to inquire of my wishes.

About this time I was treated to the handiwork of a real artist. The bells rang, dishes rattled and I had one of the best looking dinners I've seen for a long time placed in front of me. It tasted just as good as it looked. A real meal with all the trimmings. Credit for the above goes to Bernice Smith—what an asset she'd be to some of the ski lodges. A little later, Margaret Craig, one of the 3 to 11 staff nurses came in with a shot glass in which were three pills—one for sleeping, one for numbing and the third to keep the others company, I guess.

The sleeper had just started to work when in walks Easton Buehler with his bottle of rubbing alcohol for my back.

Next morning the sun is just peeking through the trees when Head Nurse Ruth Morey comes in and intsalls a themometer between my teeth. I was so surprised that I almost bit the thing in two.

Shortly afterwards in ambled Bernice Kumle with breakfast. My wife and boys have always claimed I was hard to get along with and I thought they were biased. However, maybe they're right, because the next time I saw Bernice she was being admitted as a patient.

Officer Tom Sheehan was in the hall on official business a little later on. He spotted me and commented: "Boy, I knew you hated anything spelled w-o-r-k, but I didn't think you'd break a leg just to get out of it. I guess he knows now, though.

Mail time arrived and Helen Charak tossed an envelope my way. Bud and Barbara Zorich had sent me a much appreciated get-well card. I think Bud must have made the selection because the front of the card depicted a real-gone snow bunny. What a blow—after skiing for 30 years, I still qualify as a snow bunny. Oh, well.

About thtat time Dick Hampf says I got to have some more pictures. Okay, we say, but first I'll have to rewax my crutches. With that the lights flashed, buzzers buzzed, radium radiated and the photo was made. Couple minutes later he comes in with a print of the knobbiest knees you ever saw. And not a break in sight. "Thought you said at the boot top," he asked. "That's right, you're right," I said. "Mine are 8-inch boots." "No wonder he says, "I thought you wore 16-inch boots like the rest of us here in the city."

Coming out of the x-ray room I almost bumped into Dr. Monica Briner. She thought we should have another picture, but this one of herself and me.

There are many others on this closely knit and very efficient staff. I haven't had much to do with them yet, though. I think they're part of the defensive team, and probably will go into action when they decide to throw me out. Mrs. Bruce, Zella Irwin, Janet Franklin, Mrs. Grow, Ruby Thrasher, Dr. Ben King, Dr. Walter Prescott, Janice Buehler, Mrs. Mackey, Florence Waters Mrs. Mitchell and Levi Specs. "Specs" is keeper of the maintenance materials.

Seriously though, my sincere thanks to all ow you—I think you're all terrific.

I haven't mentioned the front office staff yet—Jack McGlade, Yvonne Cantrell, Florence Tremayne, Sue Reams and Mrs. Adams. I'll meet them all, I imagine when I'm discharged and when my bill is presented. I may then have a relapse and have to be readmitted.

ORDINANCE ASKED TO PROTECT BOAT USERS

PLACERVILLE — Coroner Robert Voth said he will ask the county board of supervisors Monday to consider enacting regulations for the minimum age at which persons may operate boats in the county.

Voth, himself a boat operator, said his request will be based on this week's tragedy in which three Lafayette, Contra Costa County, boys, the eldest 16, lost their lives in Lake Tahoe.

The coroner said he will not suggest a minimum age to the supervisors but feels the younger teenagers should not be permitted to go out in boats alone.

"Storms can come up pretty quickly on the lake," he said, "and even experienced boatmen can get into trouble. Youngsters don't have much chance."

BETTY SAARNI GIVEN HONOR FOR PETITION

Miss Betty Saarni, now in the 5th grade at the Truckee Elementary School, is nominated citizen of the year by friends of the Tahoe-Truckee Community Center Library. Last June, when there was talk of closing the library to citizens of the unified district, Betty circulated a petition and obtained the signatures of 42 junior-citizens, requesting that consideration be given to keeping the library open as in past years.

She personally presented the petition to the governing board of the Tahoe-Truckee Unified School District and, with further support of adult citizens who were present, obtained encouragement to believe the library would be kept open. With the exception of two weeks, when the library staff were on vacation, it has remained open.

Blue ribbons are in order for other junior citizens of the community who gave of their vacation time to assist in the library. Misses Joanne Jellin and Susana Sciutto spent many afternoons assisting with the circulation routines and the preparation of textbooks and materials for distribution to the various schools of the district.

Gavin Roberson donated three full days assisting with the last minute rush during the three days workshop of teachers just prior to the opening of school. Miss Mary Louise Merner, who is currently visiting in the community, is presently giving several afternoons a week to the library while awaiting registration day at Stanford University. Others have assisted at shorter intervals during the summer months.

GEAR SHIFT

The first automoble to use the steering column gear shift was the Benz in 1893, reports the California State Automobile Association.

MOTORISTS WARNED OF SCHOOL DANGERS

SACRAMENTO—California Highway Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell today urged all drivers to review traffic regulations governing conduct when approaching or passing school buses.

"Now that school has reopened, we are again receiving complaints from school bus drivers that some motorists are not complying with the school bus stopping law," Caldwell axplained.

Specifically, the law requires that motorists must stop and remain standing whenever a school bus displays flashing red lights. These lights are mounted near the top of the bus, two in front and two at the rear.

The law provides that the bus driver may use the flashing red lights only when a student must cross a street or highway to board the bus or after alighting from the bus.

"When these red lights are not flashing, it is safe to pass a stopped bus, having due regard for traffic and for any children who may be in the vicinity of the bus," Caldwell added.

The only exception to the stopping requirement occurs when there are separate roadways. A motorist bound in the opposite direction on the opposing roadway may proceed without stopping when the red lights are flashing.

pay dirt. The conversion attempt was no good and the home team led, 6-0.

The first play of the second quarter saw Buzz Trainor, Truckee workhorse, scamper 21 yards for the first Truckee score. Ray Cantrell then booted the go-ahead point to give the Mountain Men a 7-6 advantage at halftime.

At the half Coach Drakulich informed the officials that he would forfeit the third quarter if the heat began to take its toll.

A strong wind and all-out determination in the third frame paved the way for the second Wolverine score. Medford started the drive by going 36 yards to the Don's 35, followed by Trainor's run of 21 yards to the home team's 14. Woody Ribal then carried to the 1 where Robinson then sneaked over for the score. This was followed by Cantrell's P.A.T. being wide and a 13-6 lead.

Going into the fourth quarter Trainor hit around right and for 29 yards, Medford then jaunted around the opposite end the next play for 23 yards and to the 8-yard stripe. Robinson then tossed to Mike Burke who made a diving, finger-tip grab of the pigskin in the end zone. Cantrell then again came in to attempt the extra point. It was wide of the target and Truckee settled for a 19-6 lead.

With a minute left to play, a 15-yard penalty against the Wolverines put Norte Del Rio on the visitors' 2-yard line. Chet Williams followed with a plunge into the end zone. Mike Moore stopped the convertion and the game ended, 19-12.

Instead of playing the J.V.'s as scheduled the Wolverines played the Don Varsity reserves with Coach Segrist using a number of the players from the varsity to try and pull the game out of the fire.

Coaches Drakulich and Wilson were extremely proud of the Wolverines who put forth a great team effort to improve their mark to two wins against no losses.

Saturday, the Mountain Men return home to host the Fallon Green Waves of Nevada preceded by a Jay Vee game between the same teams at 11.

Local patients at the Tahoe Forest Hospital last week included Mrs. Bernice Smith, Mrs. Gilbert Kumle and Mrs. Charles Vind.

TAHOE COUPLE FETED ON WEDDING DATE

TAHOE CITY—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Piere Spalding, well known couple of Lake Tahoe area, were feted on their golden wedding at a party given by four of their granddaughters on Saturday, September 13 in their home on the Mt. Rose road.

The Misses Sharon Callahan, Eve Lynn Callahan, LaVonne Cobeau, Janice Riordan arranged the lovely affair, attended by 300 guests, friends and relatives of the Spaldings. Mrs. Doris Manford, a fifth granddaughter, had charge of the guestbook.

The bride of fifty years ago wore a gown of golden beige silk, completing her ensemble with an orchid of the same hue. To harmonize, members of the family also chose their dresses in the same shade.

Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Sr., presented the complimented couple with a cleverly designed money tree she had made, in behalf of their friends.

The traditional wedding cake, in four tiers, was cut and served. As a highlight of the evening, congratulatory messages from New York and other far points were read as well as a poem composed by a daughter, Mrs. Charles Trapp of Sacramento, the art work done by Janice Riordan.

Other children attending were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Callahan of Reno, Mr. and Mrs. Thedore Cox of Richmond, Mr. and Mrs. Trapp. There are seven grandchildren and eight greatgrandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Spalding were first romantically linked by their interest in roller skating, both professional, when they met in Susanville where he was a manager of a rink.

Spalding was employed by the Bell Telephone Company for 25 years, before he retired, 20 spent in Tahoe City, where they have a host of friends who are continuing to wish the mhappiness.

KIRKS HAVE GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Kirk have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. C. A. May of Camden, Ark., parents of Mrs. Kirk. A brother of the hostess who is in the U. S. Navy is expected to join the family reunion from San Diego.

LAKE WATER PROBLEMS

that when the compact between the two states is adopted, the reservoir must be operated in conformation with that compact.

Four-Point Program

The Tahoe committee of the compact commission at the same time outlined a four-point program. Raymond Knisley, head of the group, proposed the following:

(1) Reduce the maximum legal lake level from 6,229.1 feet above sea level to 6,228.5 feet to reduce high water damage to lake front property.

(2) Improve the outlet of the lake on the Truckee River to maintain a usable flow in the river down to the minimum of 6,223 feet to which the lake may be lowered.

(3) Find that there is a sufficient supply in the Tahoe Basin to supply future domestic and commercial needs. The state water resources department has said if all downstream rights were used there would be enough for Tahoe area landowners.

(4) Establish a minimum flow of 35 second feet of water in the river at all times there is water above the 6.223 foot level.

Chris Kurisa of Tahoe Valley said the South Shore Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce would support the Knisley plan.

Knisley said that published reports that the population of the lake area will rise to half a million are "preposterous."

"If it ever grew to that population," he told the committee, "you would have a slum area and the lake would be a sewer basin and then there would be no reason to go to the lake."

Discussion of the sewage problem at the lake also came in for much discussion and drew criticism of county planning commissions from several persons. Knisley said that allowing subdivisions to sell quarter acre lots is ridiculous and E. A. Reinke, chief of the state bureau of sanitary engineering, concurred that "mad planning" had caused the sewage problem.

"I'm glad there's talk of some planning. There's been some very mad planning at Tahoe. I've heard talk of having one big sewage plant at the south end of the lake with one big effluent pond. If you have that you'll have one big stink pot."

Knisley added the commissions should "get a little backbone" and limit the minimum size of lots.

The next meeting of the commission will be held at Carson City November 14.

Five Crashes Send 12 To Hospital Here

Five motor vehicle accidents in which 12 people were injured, were reported for the week by Sgt. Frank Snyder of the California Highway Patrol.

Three Truckee people suffered minor injuries Monday afternoon when three cars were involved in rear end collisions between the Southern Pacific tracks on the detour two miles east of Hirschdale.

The mishap injured George Heath, 53, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Heller all of Truckee. Apparently the crossing arms on the railroad came down without previous warning, three vehicles being between the guards. The first in line, a pickup driven by Heath stopped suddenly and the Heller car immediately in the rear struck it. A third car driven by Dorothy Carrara of Reno was unable to stop and struck the rear of the Heller machine. No one was badly injured and no citation was issued.

Four were hurt Thursday when cars driven by James S. Perry, Reno and Victor W. McLane, Truckee, were involved in a collision five miles east of Truckee at 4:30 p.m. Both cars apparently decided to pass a truck at the same time.

Taken to the Tahoe Forest Hospital with injuries were Beverly Perry, 41, and their three children, Susan, 13, Cheryl, 6, and Mark, 2. The latter suffered serious arm injuries.

Saturday night three cars driven by Claude Stevens, San Francisco; Willard Scott, San Francisco and Lawrence McDermott, Waterloo, Iowa, were involved in a wreck a mile west of Pla-Vada, injuring Malice Stevens, 60, Scott and Stevens. Stevens was cited for making a bad pass and speeding.

Two deer hunters, Jack Todd, 34, and Mark Rader, 23, both of Sacramento, were injured on the Dry Creek road near Hobart Mills Saturday afternoon when their car failed to make a turn and struck a tree. Todd was cited for speeding. Both were taken to the hospital with serious injuries.

Alfred Tony Solorzano, 4-year-old Kings Beach boy was struck and injured by a car driven by Sophia Levra at the intersection of Fox and Goden street in Kings Beach Sunday morning. The boy, not believed seriously hurt, was taken to Reno for treatment. Witnesses said he ran into the street and Mrs. Levra was unable to stop in time to avoid hitting him.
